

ADVERTISING RATES Fall 2017

About us:

The Englewood Review of Books is a book review publication that is published in two separate formats: online (free and daily) and print (paid subscriptions, quarterly issues in conjunction with the Church calendar). Although our audience is almost exclusively Christian, about half the books we review are from outside the Christian market. We primarily review non-fiction titles, and at least 90% of the fiction titles we review are from outside the Christian market. Our reviews have been featured on the prestigious BookForum website, as well as Scot McKnight's popular blog, The Jesus Creed.

Our print edition was lauded by John Wilson, editor of Books and Culture Magazine, who devoted an episode of the B&C podcast to our first issue

(Available here: <http://bit.ly/ERB-BC>).

Advertising in Our Email Newsletter.

What is our Email Newsletter?

Every Friday, we send out a digest of the reviews and other content that has appeared on our website this week. Subscription to this email digest is free and is one of the preferred ways of engaging our website. We have recently started placing an ad at the top of that email. If you would like to subscribe to this email to get a sense what that looks like you can subscribe here: <http://erb.kingdomnow.org/free-e-book-when-you-subscribe-to-the-erb/> Or, you can email us at editor@englewoodreview.org and we would be glad to subscribe you.

Readership:

We currently have over 5500 readers, but this number grows every day, and we anticipate that we will have over 6000 readers by the end of 2017. Because readers are receiving the digest in their email inboxes, and because it is the primary way that many of them keep up with our site, these emails have a high open-rate, meaning that your ad will get viewed.
